15 REASONS NOT TO BE IN A PLAY

What if a play set out to convince you not to be in a play at all? In 15 Reasons Not To Be in a Play, the cast hilariously presents every possible excuse to avoid the stage—forgetting lines, embarrassing moments, stage fright—only to reveal, piece by piece, why theater is actually an unforgettable, exciting, and rewarding experience. It's clever, fast-paced, and full of humor that students (and audiences!) instantly connect with.

Along the way, students in this Acting Class will build confidence, strengthen communication skills, and learn how to express themselves creatively. They'll develop stage presence, collaboration, and quick thinking—all in a supportive environment where friendships grow and every voice is valued.

The journey culminates in a live stage performance, where students step into the spotlight and bring this witty production to life. There's nothing quite like the pride and excitement of performing in front of an audience—an experience your child will remember long after the final curtain call.
